2 YEAR GRADS

Way back in January the yearbook in conjunction with the Student Government Association gave a party to lure the two year graduates here on campus so that we could take group photos. Well needless to say we had limited success and have judged the degree program people according to their participation.

FROM THE EDITOR:

I’d like to take this space to thank the staff who made this book. Pat and Bill took care of the design and organization of CL III and the staff helped them to photograph, develop, layout, sell ads, eat pizza, drink beer, think of ideas, and do other yearbook-type activities. I came on the scene about halfway through production and only wish I could’ve been here earlier. The whole staff is listed below but a few people deserve extra mention. The cover and Morano’s ad were done by Andy Spinks, the endsheet and our door were done by Mars Simopoulos and the poem CANNED LEVIATHAN was composed by Frizbee-Frank Colcord. I’d also like to thank Benji Linares for all his darkroom time and Mr. Mouse for coming down from Orlando to do our opening photo.

LEVIATHAN

The Leviathan, you say to meet.

The Leviathan, you could not defeat.

So a new school was built,

With the school serpentine,

He had never been steamed.

With frustration,

I found no revision,

Was apathetic condition.

He now exclaimed,

Ireed came.

How of their plot,

Into a pot.”

And voiced demands,

As triumphant stand.

As command.

And is tightly canned.
